NYP INTERNATIONAL (NYPi)

Nanyang Polytechnic International (NYPi) is committed to enhancing NYP's reputation in the area of technical and vocational education and training (TVET) beyond Singapore. Apart from offering manpower development programmes for overseas professionals, NYPi also assists in strengthening NYP's international partnerships and collaborations, as well as in creating more international exchange and attachment opportunities for students and staff.

In FY2010/11, NYPi organised a total of 92 courses and seminars for 2,200 participants from Bhutan, the People's Republic of China (PRC), the Philippines, Sri Lanka and Vietnam.

The key programmes included:

HEALTHCARE TRAINING PROGRAMMES FOR VIETNAM AND BHUTAN

- NYP's School of Health Sciences (SHS) conducted seven courses for 125 participants from Ho Chi Minh City and Hanoi under this programme, which culminated in May 2010. The courses covered Nursing Management, Nursing Pedagogy and Paediatric, Emergency, Surgical and Critical Care Nursing.
- Ninety-four nursing professionals and administrators from Bhutan's Ministry of Health, hospitals and nursing training institutions will undergo training in NYP in five areas of nursing. Starting in January 2011, SHS conducted three courses in Nursing Management, and Emergency and Critical Care Nursing. Two more courses in Nursing Pedagogy and Paediatric Nursing are slated to run in September 2011.

PRC MINISTRY OF EDUCATION PRINCIPAL PROGRAMME

In collaboration with the PRC Ministry of Education, a special course was organised in May 2010 for 22 principals from 20 colleges and technical institutions from all over China. The participating institutions came from the provinces of Guizhou, Hainan, Sichuan, Yunnan and the cities of Beijing and Chongqing.

SPECIALIST TEACHERS TRAINING PROGRAMMES FOR PRC

In collaboration with the Jiangsu and Liaoning provincial Departments of Education in China, six courses for specialist teachers were conducted for 162 PRC teachers in three specialisation areas, namely: Computer Numerical Control Technology, Mechatronics Engineering and Embedded Technology Engineering.
